

Excellence in Art with the Melissa and Doug Deluxe Standing Easel

There's an unlimited amount of creativity in every child and making sure we tap that flow of energy and expression is paramount. Drawing, sketching, tracing, painting, etc are all an integral part of personal, emotional, and educational development for every child. Thankfully, there are a select few tools of the trade to help make this opportunity unfold a bit more easily than just a plain pad of paper and a lead stick. The Melissa and Doug Deluxe Standing Easel is just such a specimen of an exemplary educational tool to stimulate creativity and productiveness. We have seen many excellent learning toys stem from the Melissa and Doug line and this excellent easel is no exception to the awesome learning toys out there. Take a good look at this one!

{gallery}2008/11/melissa_doug_easel{/gallery}

Product Description:

Just like a professional easel, this work station is generously sized so that children can complete projects both big and small. Its durable wood construction ensures that it won't tip and it folds up easily for convenient storage. The easel also has a sturdy paint tray with cup holders for easy use and clean-up, and another tool tray that holds erasers, chalks, and clips. Four large, colorful clips are included with this easel. Paper rolls can be loaded effortlessly into the holder and a paper cutting edge at the top delivers clean cuts and leaves your artist's work whole.

Parents may have to assist removing and loading the paper, as it can be difficult for kids to do on their own. (The paper rolls and paint cups are not included.) A standing easel is essential for any young artist. This large easel has a chalkboard, dry erase board, and paper roller to let the children express themselves with different mediums. It also has an adjustable height that grows with the creator and delivers years of use. The brightly colored tool containers are capacious enough to hold lots of different items and are simple for tiny fingers to utilize. This toy will unleash the little artist inside every child and could spark a lifelong interest in fine art.

What's in the Box

Easel, paint tray, chalk tray, 4 colorful clips, and paper roller.